

SIÂN REBOURG
Head of Social Value

WHAT DO YOU ENJOY MOST ABOUT YOUR ROLE?

“The variety in my role, working from everything from strategy to work winning to delivering social value in the communities we work in. In particular seeing the positive impacts our projects can have on the communities and residents we work with.”

WHAT WAS YOUR CAREER PATH INTO YOUR ROLE?

“I started working in the construction industry 15 years ago when London won the 2012 Olympics and I was working in one of the host boroughs. I had the opportunity to start helping local residents train for opportunities on the Olympic Park build, then developed a passion for increasing the number of women in the industry securing my next role as Women in Construction Project Manager & Employment & Skills Manager on the Velodrome.”

WHAT IS YOUR GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT AT HILL?

“Developing our Social Value & Community Team to support the projects delivering social value & contributing to our first ever annual ESG report this year.”

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE HILL DEVELOPMENT AND WHY?

“Agar Grove, it was one of the first projects I visited when I started, so I have watched it come out the ground over the year I have been here.”

ANYTHING ELSE YOU'D LIKE TO MENTION ABOUT YOUR ROLE OR HILL?

“Just how passionate we are at driving social value & sustainability across the business, truly recognising the benefits & supporting at all levels to achieve our goals.”